About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHY T.

INTERVIEW: "Funniest thing happened to me yesterday," remarked Bill Melton, who has a desk real close to mine.

"Tell me what happened, William," I said to William. "I feel the need of an interview."

"Well, it's like this," began the interview as I took down notes at a machine-gun clip.

"I was walking home after work, going down South Main street, and I was about a half block from Raymond. You know, I live on Raymond, the third house off Main.

"Well, when I was walking along about a half block from Raymond a car going south on Main stopped, the horn sounded, and a woman driver who was in the car by herself motioned for me to go to the car.

"I hadn't remembered seeing the woman before, and I figured she was wanting some information, so I went out to see what she wanted.

"When I got to the car, she said, 'Hop in and I'll take you home.'

"I told her I was almost home already but she said to hop in, anyway, that she was a neighbor and that I might as well ride.

"I knew that some people had moved in close to me recently that I figured I did not know and figured she was the lady of the house; so I got in the car and she started off.

"When we got down to Raymond, though, she did not turn off, but kept going on out South Main, and after a few blocks turned off to the west. I just sat there and we talked about different things as she drove along—about the school election that day and other things.

"And pretty soon she stopped her car and said, 'I guess this is where you get out.' So I got out and she drove on in a driveway.

"There I was, six blocks from home, and the only thing I could do was to walk the six blocks back to my address on Raymond. That I did."

"Why didn't you tell her that you lived there on Raymond when she started on out South Main street?" I asked Melton.

"Well," he answered, "she was so nice I didn't want to embarrass her by telling her she had the wrong man in the car."

MAIL: I received a card from Jay Gaskins, who is in Phoenix, Ariz., with his wife, and he reports, after reading that the three Eldorado's in Kansas, Arkansas and Illinois are all noted for their oil, that "At Eldorado, on Beaveridge lake in northern Saskatchewan, a main shaft descends 1,300 feet into one of Canada's largest uranium deposits."

Jay also remarks that he enjoyed the write-up about his mother's new telephone light system here. She is Mrs. W. O. Gaskins.

And while we're on the Gaskins subject, the Ashton Gazette reports that Paul Gaskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gaskins, formerly of this city, became Ashton's first Eagle Scout last Saturday. He is now a freshman at the University of Illinois.

Town-Lot Oil Well In Eldorado Flows 900 Barrels Day

The Amos Wood No. 1, a town-lot drilling venture in Eldorado, was brought in Tuesday and yesterday was flowing at a rate of better than 900 barrels of oil a day.

It was learned that the day following hydraulic fracture the well, just across the street from Washington school, was flowing 39 barrels of oil an hour from the Waltersburg sand. Some believed the well would settle down to a good producer of around 25 barrels per hour, or 600 a day.

The drillers found 23 feet of good saturation in the Waltersburg at 2141-64.

Legal description of the well is 200 feet north and 330 feet west of the southeast corner of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of Section 21-8s-7e.

Rapid Clip to End Operation Ahead Schedule

Nationalists To Redeploy Troops After Evacuation

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist Chinese troops poured into Formosa today from the abandoned and demilitarized Tachen Islands at a clip that promised an end to the touchy, U. S.-protected operation by Friday or Saturday. Red China has not interfered.

American and Chinese Nationalist transports were shuttling between this Nationalist island fortress and its vulnerable northern outpost on a schedule that was "days ahead" of original estimates. One U. S. transport and three Chinese LSTs arrived at Keelung today and three more U. S. transports were due in tonight.

Chinese Nationalist authorities said today that as soon as the evacuation of the Tachens and nearby islands is completed, the even more dangerous redeployment of the troops to Quemoy, Matsu and Nanchi islands will begin.

That operation, which presumably will be carried out by the Nationalists alone, will require transports to move within a few thousand yards of the heavily defended Red-held mainland.

Red Gunners Ready

United Press Staff Correspondent

At Kaff, aboard the USS Yorktown, reported today that the Reds are trigger-ready for any approach to their territorial waters.

Communist gunners on islands north of the Tachen Islands hurled flak into the skies early today. Kaff said, to warn away American pilots protecting the Tachen evacuation.

Night fighters from the carrier Essex said they encountered sporadic flak from several positions north of the Tachens. No U. S. planes were hit.

The evacuees arriving here today included the first troops from Tachen island itself. The evacuation of Pishan, about 30 miles southwest of the main Tachen group, was completed and all troops from Pishan have arrived in Formosa.

Original Navy estimates said the evacuation would take 10 to 14 days, but it appeared likely the mass movement would be completed by this weekend. The removal of the Nationalist garrison was the final and most crucial phase of the pullback.

Will Not Leave Ammunition

Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, 7th Fleet commander, denied rumors one million dollars worth of artillery ammunition would be left on Tachen and said his ships would stand by until everything of value was removed. The reports originated by a garbled message saying "cease operations" instead of the intended "complete operations."

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, in a statement released today, denounced United Nations efforts for a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait and again called for sanctions against Soviet and Red Chinese aggression.

Lewis E. York, 81, Former Saline County Sup't of Schools, Dies

Lewis E. York, 81, former Saline county superintendent of schools, died Wednesday at the Methodist hospital in Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. York was born near Harrisburg and served as county superintendent of schools from 1908 to 1911. He was a member of the Illinois State Legislature from 1904 to 1908, serving two terms.

In 1923 he moved to Indianapolis, Ind., where he worked for the Indiana Temperance League approximately 30 years and where he was a member of the Broadway Methodist church. Mr. York was also a member of the Masonic lodge.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Manelle Scopp, and two sons, Eugene N. York and Jackson L. York, all of Indianapolis, Ind.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 11:30 a. m. at the Broadway Methodist church in Indianapolis, and burial will be in Worthington, Ind.

Friends may call at the Flanner Buchanan Fall Creek Mortuary in Indianapolis.

Extinguish Grass Fire

A grass fire was extinguished at Mill and South streets around 5 p. m. yesterday.

World Affairs Assembly Team at Annual Presbyterian School of Missions Monday

Dr. Arthur L. Carson

On Monday, Feb. 14, the first session of the annual School of Missions will be held at the Presbyterian church. The program will consist of a world affairs assembly team with the following distinguished speakers:

Dr. Arthur L. Carson, former president of Silliman university in the Philippine Islands and at present missionary associate in the Foreign Board offices with special responsibilities in the Educational Advisory Committee and the Personnel Department. He is also serving as counselor on Ecumenical evangelism in the office of the Director of National Commission on Evangelism of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

Dr. Albert I. Good, who has just recently retired from missionary service in Cameroon, Africa after 40 years of service. In 1935, he was the vice moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. Dr. Good has translated the greater part of the Old Testament into the Bula language. Deeply interested in science, Dr. Good has collected thousands of butterflies and other insects which he has contributed to the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh, Pa. He has collected several thousand bird skins for the Cleveland Museum and fishes for Leland Stanford university. He is a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of Great Britain.

Samuel Chand, a native of Lahore, Pakistan, who is an enthusiastic Christian youth worker in the largest Moslem country in the world, Pakistan. Mr. Chand has taught for 20 years in the Great Rang Mahal boys' high school in Lahore. This school has an enrollment of 2200 pupils. Mr. Chand is also an elder and superintendent of the famous Naulakha church in Lahore which has a membership of over 1000. At the present time he has been granted a special observation scholarship in Christian Education by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions and will spend a year observing and experiencing religious education and youth work in churches and conferences in the U. S. A. He will return to his responsible position as office superintendent of the Rang Mahal high school with his interest and skill as Sunday school and youth worker enhanced by innumerable contacts gained during his year with American young people and their leaders.

Wayne Hoxsie, associate general presbyter, Illinois Synod, Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A., will moderate the meeting. The program will begin at 4 p. m. with a dinner prepared and served by the Alpha circle for church members at 6 p. m. and the program will continue until 9 p. m. The public is invited to attend both the afternoon and evening sessions of the World Affairs Assembly.

Fugitive, Girl Hostage Burn to Death in Auto

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—A fugitive and his terrified teenage girl hostage burned to death today when their car crashed in flames during a wild ride to escape police.

The escape car smashed into a police cruiser after a 60-mile-an-hour sprint across 30 miles of crowded New Jersey highways.

The victims were identified as Leonard Pasco, 27, of Bound Brook, N. J., and his hostage, Constance Cobb, 17, of Milltown, N. J.

New Jersey State Troopers said Pasco was approached by Patrolman Hylan Petry in Milltown Wednesday night on suspicion because Pasco's trousers were wet to the knee.

Pasco wrestled with Petry, whipped out a gun, took Petry's pistol, and fled on foot.

About an hour later Pasco came upon four youths parked in a car at a lovers lane in New Brunswick Township. He ordered the youths out of the car and then told Constance to drive him away.

"Do what I tell you or I'll kill you," he told Constance according to the youths with her.

Police said the car was later seen speeding along a highway in Elizabeth with Constance driving and Pasco sitting behind her with a gun at her head.

Warnings were sent out and a roadblock set up in Jersey City. The car driven by Constance smashed into a cruiser forming the roadblock. It rolled over and burst into flames with both occupants trapped inside.

Areas of State Hit by Blinding Snowstorm

A blinding snowstorm hit portions of Illinois Thursday and the U. S. Weather Bureau issued a special cold wave warning.

At least six schools in the Bloomington area had closed or were closing early so youngsters could get home before snowdrifts blocked roads.

Forecasters said the cold wave would send temperatures plunging to 5 to 15 degrees below zero in northwestern Illinois by Friday morning, and to 5 to 10 above in southeastern Illinois.

The forecast called for snow in the north and west-central portions accumulating to 2 to 4 inches and diminishing late Thursday.

But at LaSalle, the snow already had reached a depth of five inches by midday, with no sign of diminishing.

The driving snow cut visibility below maximum at Chicago's Midway Airport and an estimated 25 inbound flights were either stacked up over the city, returned to their starting point or diverted to fields at Indianapolis, Milwaukee and Detroit.

The snowstorm hampered firemen fighting a 5-11 alarm blaze that burned out an empty six-story brick building on Chicago's Near West Side. Two firemen were injured when the roof collapsed on them as they cleaned up debris.

The State Highway Department reported highways in the northern fourth of the state slippery because of snow and sleet. The condition was spreading to the south in the western part of the state.

For Friday the forecast called for a high of zero to 10 above in northern Illinois, and from 10 to 15 above in the southern section of the state.

Dies of Injuries

ROSCILARE, Ill. (AP)—Deenen Crow, Wayne, Mich., died in a hospital here today of injuries received when he was struck by a car Saturday night on Ill. 146 between Cave-in-Rock and Elizabeth town, where he had been visiting.

State Police Sup't Asks More Pay, Patrolmen

Brown Says Present Force Does Not Rate With Other States

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The state police chief's request for 250 more policemen and an increase in police pay today was before the Legislative Motor Vehicles Laws Commission.

Police Superintendent Phil M. Brown told the commission Wednesday that Illinois "just does not rate" with other states of similar size in the manpower or payment of its police force.

He asked an increase of 50 per cent in the present 500-man force and a boost in patrolman's pay from $3,865 a year to $4,400 a year. Pay in all other ranks through his own would also be boosted and a new rank of corporal would be created to give deserving men promotions, he said.

The superintendent's pay would be increased from $8,000 to $10,000 annually under the series of bills which Brown said the Department of Public Safety has prepared for submission to the Legislature.

Favors More Police

Gov. William G. Stratton is reported to favor an increase of at least 100 state policemen and told the Legislature he would like to see patrolman's pay raised "at least as high as $350 per month."

Brown said many of the force's ablest men are quitting because of the low pay and lack of opportunity and financial reward for advancement.

He said the force has "a multitude of new duties... all statistics show crime is on the increase... and our main job of traffic enforcement is increasing with the number of cars and highways."

The legislators questioned the non-traffic enforcement duties of state police and their increasing concern with local crime.

Rep. M. R. (Bob) Walker (R-Danville), commission chairman, asked Brown if he didn't think all his men would be needed for highway work even if the force is enlarged. "It seems if the force is supported by highway funds they shouldn't be using this money to take on a lot of other duties," Walker said.

Brown said he would be happy to see the force used only for highway work but said local authorities are making increasing demands for state police help. In other cases he said state police act because "local law enforcement breaks down."

Horror of Gestapo

"Who are you to determine that?" Rep. Carl Preits (D-Pana) asked. "I have a horror of a Gestapo of snooping policemen."

Local government can take care of these things like it always has.

There are plenty of local remedies and the people can vote out the mayors, state's attorneys

Senate Approval of Defense Treaty with Nationalists Gives Warning to Red China

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's overwhelming approval of a defense treaty between the United States and the Nationalist Chinese gave Red China renewed warning today that this country will fight to defend Formosa.

The treaty with Chiang Kai-shek's government cleared the Senate Wednesday night by a whopping 64 to 6 bipartisan vote, far more than the required two-thirds majority, and was sent to President Eisenhower for his signature.

The treaty is narrower in scope than the special authority for Formosa's defense voted by both houses of Congress to President Eisenhower earlier.

That action authorized the President to defend not only Formosa and the Pescadores Islands, both of which are covered in the treaty, but also any other Nationalist-held islands off the coast of Red China he deems vital to Formosa's defense.

But the treaty is permanent while the earlier resolution is a temporary measure to specifically meet the present Formosa crisis. The resolution expires when the President feels the Formosa situation has stabilized sufficiently.

The six senators voting against the treaty were Dennis Chavez (D-NM), Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY), William Langer (R-SD) and Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore).

The treaty was approved after the Senate defeated efforts to tack on formal restrictions to specifically exclude the islands of Quemoy and Matsu from the territory covered and turned down a proposal to specify that the treaty does not involve the question of Formosa's legal sovereignty, which was left in doubt by postwar treaties.

In its report on the treaty, the Foreign Relations committee said the administration had given assurances that the treaty involves

Auto Production To Hit New High

DETROIT (AP)—Automobile production will hit an all-time record high of 168,160 new automobiles this week, Automotive News reported today.

The trade newspaper said the week's production will shatter the all-time weekly high of 165,860 cars turned out in June of the boom year of 1950.

The paper predicted the record production this week would be the first of a series of new weekly records set in the next month and a half.

Funeral Services Friday 2:30 p. m. For John B. Lee

John B. Lee

The body of John B. Lee, vice president of the Harrisburg National bank who died early yesterday, will be moved from the Gaskins funeral home to the First Presbyterian church at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow, to lie in state for one hour before the 2:30 funeral service.

The funeral service will be conducted by the Rev. John P. Emig, church pastor, with burial in Sunset Lawn cemetery. There will be Masonic rites.

Active pallbearers will be O. L. Turner Jr., John W. Towle, Charles O. Farrar, Dr. B. G. Funkhouser, Curtis G. Small and Clyde Wilmoth.

Honorary pallbearers will be G. G. Muge, J. H. Pruett, H. O. Buell, G. O. Davenport, K. C. Capel, John R. Jackson, Atty. Charles H. Thompson, D. B. McGehee and H. T. Towle.

Both banks will close at 1 p. m. tomorrow because of the funeral.

neither of these questions. But Morse, Langer and Lehman wanted this spelled out.

The key article of the treaty states:

"Each party recognizes that an armed attack in the West Pacific area directed against the territories of either of the parties would be dangerous to its own peace and safety and declares that it would act to meet the common danger with its own constitutional processes."

The President has said the treaty would make it unmistakably clear to the Communists that this country will fight, if necessary, to defend Formosa.

The treaty does not discuss the legal status of Formosa but Morse and others feared it would give "the color of sovereignty and permanency" to Chiang's control.

Pinay Unable To Form New French Gov't

PARIS (AP)—President Rene Coty has named Pierre Pflimlin of the Popular Republican Party (MRP) as premier-designate of France in a second attempt to end the 6-day-old government crisis, reliable sources said today.

Businessman Antoine Pinay, a former premier, earlier notified Coty that he was unable to line up enough support to form France's 21st cabinet since the end of World War II.

The chances of the 49-year-old Pflimlin to win the post made vacant when Pierre Mendes-France resigned last weekend were not considered good.

The sources said, in fact, that Pflimlin might not even accept Coty's invitation to attempt to form a cabinet. Therefore, an early end to the crisis was not in sight.

Pinay failed largely because of the opposition offered by Pflimlin's own MRP. The next step, in line with French parliamentary custom, would be to give the MRP a chance to fill the premiership since it constituted the chief non-Communist opposition to the Mendes-France government.

Pflimlin was the only member of his party who voted for the expanded Western European Union and thus was considered most acceptable to both the right wing and the Socialists.

It was the MRP that was largely responsible for Pinay's failure. The MRP also caused Pinay's fall in 1952 after a term that made him the most popular postwar premier until Mendes-France came along.

Other names put forward by political observers were Socialist Christian Pineau, 50, and Edgar Faure, 46, a member of Mendes-France's Radical Socialist Party who became foreign minister shortly before the cabinet fell.

Faure, a finance expert who held office as France's youngest postwar premier for 40 days in 1952, startled the country by challenging a newspaper editor to a duel shortly after taking over the Foreign Ministry. The duel was called off.

Wet-Dry Vote in Independence Township on April 5

Independence township will vote Tuesday, April 5, on whether liquor can be sold legally in the township.

There are no liquor stores in Independence. Several months ago there was court action on the question of selling liquor, after an applicant was denied a license to sell liquor in the township.

The case was taken to the circuit court, where refusal to act on the application was upheld. In the litigation attorneys for William Alfred Smith, county liquor commissioner who did not issue the license, contended that the township had voted dry in the past. Attorneys for the applicant contended there was no proper record of such a vote.

Men Keep Teeth Longer Than Women

CHICAGO (AP)—Women may live longer than men, but men keep their teeth longer.

A report to the Chicago Dental Society revealed 80 per cent of the women at age 70 need complete dentures as compared to 70 per cent of the men.

States Position In Answer to Laborite Demands

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons today that he is willing to meet Russia's new premier, Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, in a four-power conference—but only after full ratification of the German arms agreements.

Those are the same conditions under which the British prime minister said he would be willing to join in a conference with the toppled Russian Premier Georgi Malenkov.

He stated his position in answer to Laborite demands that he seek an immediate meeting with Bulganin in an attempt to ease world tensions.

"The government policy is to seek a four-power conference at a time when it seems likely to yield genuine results," Churchill said.

Churchill met with his cabinet Wednesday night to discuss the implications of the shift in power within Russia.

The cabinet session came almost immediately after news dispatches were received from Moscow telling of Bulganin's tough first speech to the Supreme Soviet and appointment of Marshal Gregori Zhukov as defense minister.

Socialists Ask Meeting

The Laborites "meet Bulganin" move already had been introduced on the agenda of today's session when the ministers were called to their second cabinet meeting of the day.

Warby asked Churchill whether he will invite Premier Bulganin to participate in "joint discussions on the solution of outstanding international problems." Henderson's question was worded similarly, but neither suggested a locale.

Bulganin visited London in 1936 when he was mayor of Moscow. He studied the London County Council's Public Service as guest of leader and later foreign minister, Herbert Morrison, then council leader and later foreign minister.

Churchill first mentioned a top-level meeting on May 11, 1953, just after the death of Soviet Premier Josef Stalin.

"I must make it plain that in spite of all the uncertainties and confusion in which world affairs are plunged I believe a conference on the highest level should take place without long delay," he said.

It might well be that no hard faced agreements would be reached, but there might be a general feeling among those gathered together they might do something better than tear the human race including themselves into bits."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Blessed is every one that feareth Jehovah and walketh in his ways. —Psalm 128:1.

Blessed means happy, yet some seek happiness by violating God's laws.

Who's Fooling Who?

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

One of the marks of decency and fairness in human life is a man's willingness to admit error. Sad to relate, it's a mark whose imprint appears to have become a trifle faint in this turbulent, competitive age.

In public affairs, of course, it has long been an axiom of other doubtful merit that the politician shall not acknowledge an error if he can avoid it.

Yet it is pretty clear that people are often captivated by engaging frankness, their sympathies won by evidences of human frailty in public figures. They are ready to forgive much.

Despite this, the trend seems to be the other way. Our politicians, of both parties, have developed to a fine art the technique of conceding their mistakes. The result is often exactly the opposite of what they desire. They get into more rather than less political trouble.

Former President Truman's famous "red herring" remark is a striking example. In the atmosphere which prevailed during and right after World War II, a great many Americans were gullible about Russian Communist intentions. As a nation, we were slow to alert to the new peril.

Mr. Truman might have said that his administration, caught up in this atmosphere, had likewise been slow to appreciate the danger. That was the fact. Instead, he met plain evidence of Red infiltration with the brash comment that it did not exist.

The illustrations are manifold. Both parties are well known to be divided organisms, but party chiefs never let themselves be trapped in a public acknowledgment of that situation. One wonders who they think they are fooling.

But the public men aren't alone in all this. The private citizen seems more on edge, in this abrasive civilization of ours, than he used to be.

If a man runs through a red light and nearly knocks you down, and you chide him for it, he's more likely to question your right to be on the street than to admit he did anything wrong.

If a motorist strikes your car and it's clearly his fault, often his first and only impulse is to holler: "What's the matter with you? You saw I was coming, didn't you?"

Admitting responsibility for error seems to be viewed by some people as not merely unwise but a positive sign of weakness. Apologize for your own mistakes and you'll sometimes find that you get a cold, stony stare in reply.

This could mean: "Well, what did you do it for in the first place?" Or it might mean instead: "You fool, why did you apologize? I wouldn't if I'd stepped on your toes."

Exaggerations? It depends a little on where you live, but this sort of thing is common in many places in the nation.

Every day that passes, there are more Americans alive than the day before. The growth in our numbers is changing the life we lead. If this new life is not to be an increasingly painful experience, we need to do more and more to accommodate to each other. Admitting our mistakes can be a big part of that accommodation.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Senate Committee On Juvenile Delinquency Prepares Stinging Rebuke To TV Programs; TV Networks Want Senate Report Modified; Violence Increases On TV Juvenile Programs.

WASHINGTON. — The big television networks have been quietly pressuring the Senate Juvenile Delinquency committee to tone down their report on the connection between TV programs and juvenile crime. However, it doesn't look as if they would succeed.

The Senate Committee on Juvenile Delinquency did such a forthright job on comic books and child crime that the comic-book industry appointed a czar to clean up. Equally forthright hearings were held on television programs which the big networks offer up to children during the hours between 4 and 6 p. m., and a draft report has been written by the staff and distributed to members of the committee. A copy of the report was also sent to interested networks for their comment, and the howl that came back has echoed around Senate committee rooms.

However, the three members of the Senate committee — Langer of North Dakota, Kefauver of Tennessee, and Hennings of Missouri — are standing pat. They may even strengthen their report.

Meanwhile, here is some of the stinging criticism of the TV programs which the preliminary Senate report, so far still secret, levels at the big telecasters who mold the minds of millions of children.

GREATEST MIND-MOLDER

"Sociologists have pointed out that television has wrought the most marked influence upon the habits of the family of any technical development since the motor-car went into mass production."

Even the less dogmatic parents and educators are beginning to be concerned about the repeated exposure of children to the sequence of crime and violence on television.

"While it is not the intent of the subcommittee to equate crime and violence with badness," says the draft Senate report, "it is a problem resulting from the repeated exposure of boys and girls to a sordid and brutal fare."

To illustrate the tremendous impact which TV now has on children, the Senate committee cited a survey in the nation's capital by Charles Haden Allred as follows:

"Interviews with 400 families owning television in the metropolitan area of Washington, D. C., revealed that motion picture attendance has fallen off 49 per cent among children of families that owned TV sets for more than two years. Children read 11 per cent fewer magazines, 15.7 per cent fewer comics and 9.2 per cent fewer books."

Commenting on this survey, the Senate draft report stated: "Young children may be termed a unique group. For them television is not intruding upon already established patterns. Because they can watch television before they are able to read the printed word, they are apt to undergo heavy exposure to television in pre-school days. Television is frequently the first teacher."

VIOLENT PROGRAMS INCREASE

Despite this, the amount of violence which the big networks are dishing out to young children has increased rather than decreased, the Senate profers found.

Citing a study of the seven New York TV stations, the Senate report showed that "the number of acts and threats of violence had increased substantially between 1952 and 1953." This meant 6.2 acts and threats of violence per hour, the survey showed.

"Furthermore, during the week of Jan. 4-10, 1953, children's television hours in New York were twice as saturated with violence as other hours," the survey stated.

Another TV survey cited by the Senate profers indicated that "the domination of crime and violence is increasing rather than diminishing."

Summarizing the obvious effect of TV programs upon juvenile crime, the unpublished Senate report states:

"It was found that life is cheap; death, suffering, sadism, and brutality are subjects of callous indifference, and that judges, lawyers and enforcement officers are dishonest, incompetent, and stupid."

"The manner and frequency with which crime is brought before the eyes and ears of American children indicates a complete disregard for psychological and social consequences."

CRIME VIA KNOB

"Television crime programs are potentially much more injurious to children and young people than motion picture, radio or comic books. Attending a movie requires money, so an average child's exposure to films in the theatre tends to be limited to a few hours a week. Comic books demand strong imaginary projections. Also they must be sought out and purchased. But television, available at the flick of a knob and combining visual and audible aspects into a live story, has a greater impact upon its child audience."

What the effects of a child seeing five, six and seven people killed each afternoon might be in terms of making callous his normal sensitivity to that kind of human destruction is an unknown quantity," points out the so far unpublished Senate report.

Citing various child experts who had studied television, the committee report stated:

"It was found that hundreds and hundreds of exposures to the suffering of others for the purpose of entertainment most unfortunately have brought about in many, many children an atrophy of such desirable emotions as sympathy and compassion toward those in distress, and also of the desire to help alleviate the pain or misery of those being maltreated, even to the point of torture. This atrophy leaves scar tissues in the form of a hardness, an intense selfishness, even mercilessness, proportionate to the amount of exposure and its play on the native temperament of each child."

TV HIGHLIGHTS

Other highlights of the senators' findings on juvenile TV: The National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters has only three on their staff to review TV shows. They have monitored only 42 TV stations in 20 cities, have never withdrawn the NARTB official seal of approval from any TV station.

The Federal Communications Commission has steered clear of guidance re children's programs. Applicants for TV licenses talk about the high quality of their proposed program in advance, but do little about them afterward.

"The commission," says FCC Chairman Rosel Hyde, "has only very rarely been able to determine that a station's programming standards have so far deteriorated as to warrant a finding that its continued operation would not serve the public interest."

The British Broadcasting Company, in contrast, does an excellent job on children's programs. Senators commended "the constructive approach of BBC; also noted its 'fairly rigid control of the air waves.'"

IPAC Reports Increase in December Relief

SPRINGFIELD. — The Illinois Public Aid Commission today reported a hefty increase in its case load during December.

Executive Secretary Garrett W. Keaster said the IPAC spent $12,713,599 to assist 286,114 persons in the final month of 1954.

Keaster said this was a boost of 9,562 persons and $690,499 in spending over November. Funds spent were 16.6 per cent over the same month in 1953, he said.

The biggest change from November to December came in the general assistance, or poor relief, program.

The IPAC added 9,824 persons to its relief rolls, bringing the total to 98,770—56.6 per cent above December, 1953. Spending totaled $3,565,753, $409,539 over November and $1,324,570 higher than December, 1953.

CONFERRING ON D-X, SUNRAY MERGER—C. H. Wright, left, chairman and chief executive officer of Sunray Oil Corp., and R. W. McDowell, president of Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp., both of Tulsa, announce a D-X bulk station and service station expansion program which will be inaugurated this year, if the two companies merge into Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Co., as proposed. Stockholders of the two companies will vote shortly on the merger plan. All refining, crude oil pipe line and marketing activities will be carried out through a wholly-owned subsidiary, the D-X Oil Co., and the operating personnel of both present companies will remain substantially unchanged. The proposed expansion program contemplates the modernization of hundreds of existing stations and the building of many additional modern stations throughout the midwest and mid-south states in which these two companies operate.

Denver Fraternity Members Stand Sorority Girl on Head, Stencil Emblem on Panties

DENVER. — Members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity at Denver University said today they were "terribly sorry" they stood a sorority girl on her head and stenciled their fraternity emblem on her panties.

"It was all in the nature of good fun," one Kappa Sigma member said. He described the incident as "spontaneous" and said there wasn't any real rough stuff.

The coed with Kappa Sigma's crescent and star emblazoned on her panties wasn't identified. But Kappa Sigma members agreed to pay for her damaged clothing.

Allwyn (Skip) Pirtle, second vice president of the fraternity and captain of the university's golf team, said the panty incident occurred because someone had stolen Kappa Sigma's symbol and a memorial plaque.

He said the missing symbol was becoming a campus joke and "it was important to us to get it back."

Fraternity members heard that Alpha Chi Omega sorority members knew something about the missing items. They lured 10 girls from the sorority house to the Sigma Kappa fraternity house with serenades and ordered them to stand trial before a kangaroo court.

The girls, according to Pirtle, were "convicted" and sentenced to have the stolen symbol painted on their foreheads.

"It was all in the nature of good fun," he said, "and the girls weren't complaining when the kangaroo court found them guilty."

But after several of the girls had the symbol painted on their foreheads, he said, the sentencing got out of hand when the unidentified coed was stood on her head and the symbol painted on her panties.

"Then all hell broke loose," Pirtle said.

The girls left the fraternity house unescorted. The interfraternity council ruled Kappa Sigma used "inexcusable bad taste" and put the fraternity under strenuous restrictions for the remainder of the school year. Members were warned against misbehavior until June 30, 1957. All campus and social functions for Kappa Sigma were ordered cancelled. Kappa Sigma officers were told to resign by tonight. The fraternity was ordered to apologize, in writing, to each of the girls involved.

The Alpha Chi Omega sorority house mother said "It started out as fun, but the boys just went too far. The girls are pretty unhappy with the Kappa Sigmas."

This Is About All the Luck One Man Can Have

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Fred W. Austin, of nearby Frewsburg, considers himself a fortunate young man.

He was riding alone in his car recently when it left the highway, bowled over a high tension pole, four mail boxes and a sign, demolishing the vehicle.

Police said the high tension wires, carrying 2,300 volts, coiled around the car and a thick plank rammed through the windshield on the driver's side. But Austin walked away with only two small cuts.

Mrs. Otis Stout Hostess
To McKinley T. E. L. Class
The T. E. L. Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met recently at the home of Mrs. Otis Stout.

The meeting opened with the song, "Near the Cross," and with prayer by Mrs. Kurt Gasaway. The devotion was given by Mrs. Hugh Rann who took her scriptures from Matt. 5:1-19.

Minutes were read and approved and the business session closed with a chain prayer.

Mrs. Herbert Clark was in charge of the recreation with Mrs. Gasaway, Mrs. John Denny and Mrs. Della Oshel winning prizes.

Delicious refreshments of pumpkin pie with whipped cream, ice cream sandwiches, coffee and Cokes were served by Mrs. Stout to Mrs. Gasaway, Mrs. Pearl Hancock, Mrs. C. T. Wheeler, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Hugh Rann, Mrs. Denney, Mrs. Ruth Morris, Mrs. Earl Hicks, Mrs. Nora Raley, Mrs. Mary Agin, and Mrs. Oshel, a visitor.

The Year Book of Prayer was given by Mrs. Owen Fuman who used as her topic for the devotion, "Liberty in Christ." Mrs. Mildred Boicourt gave the missionary lesson on "Religions of India."

Announcement was made of the mission school which begins next Monday at 4 p. m.

Twelve members and one guest, Mrs. Anne Cook, were present.

The next meeting will be held at the church on Feb. 28.

The district meeting is to be held in McLeansboro on March 9.

A silent bake sale was conducted and for roll call the members gave the recipe of the cake, pie or candy that they would have baked or made for a real bake sale. A nice sum was netted.

With February the month of Valentine, and the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington, the program was on the same. Mrs. Edna Lewis gave the origin of Valentine Day; Miss Elizabeth Myrna gave the characteristics of Lincoln, and Miss Jeannette James told of the life of Washington.

Mrs. Edna Lewis, program chairman, stated that the McLeansboro club would have charge of the March program.

McKinley Avenue Baptist Philatelic Class Meets

The Philatelic Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Iva Tolbert Tuesday evening.

The meeting was called to order by the class president, Mrs. Ruth Cusick and with the song, "Sweet By and By," Mrs. Bernice Norman led in prayer.

Roll call was answered with a New Testament character. Mrs. Amy Ford gave the devotion taken from the first seven verses of Jonah. It was announced that the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. Nettie Yarbrough.

Mrs. Leta Chaney led a season of prayer for the coming revival. Mrs. Bessie Burlew, Mrs. Myrtle Jones and Mrs. Iva Tolbert were in charge of the entertainment which consisted of a get acquainted game. Mrs. Chaney won the prize.

Several songs were sung by the "Four Bees," Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blackman.

Others present were Mrs. Etta Minor, Mrs. Aileen Rister, Mrs. Helen Gibbons, Mrs. Reba English, Mrs. Essie Holloway, Mrs. Lela Baker, Mrs. Eunice Burroughs, Mrs. Rosa Short, Mrs. Ruby Hilliard, Mrs. Della McDonald, Mrs. Edna Robbs, and visitors, Mrs. Perrie L. Refreshments of doughnuts and Cokes were served to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wise and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kaid and family, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Alvey and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Priestly Hilliard and family.

Harrisburg Business And Professional Women Meet
The Harrisburg Business and Professional Women's club met Tuesday evening in the Fellowship hall of the First Christian church for the February program.

The meeting was opened in regular form with the president, Miss Meriam Evans, presiding and with the song, "America the Beautiful," with Mrs. Ruth Thompson as accompanist. The Club Collect was given by Mrs. Nell Meyers as the invocation.

At the close of the dinner which was served on tables beautifully decorated in keeping with the Valentine season, the transaction of business was held.

Announcement was made of International Week which will be Feb. 20-26. This will be the happy Silver Anniversary to the International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, founded in 1920, to unite women in solid bonds of understanding. The Anniversary will culminate in a Silver Jubilee in Switzerland next August and will be attended by members from federations in twenty countries. Miss Marguerite Rawalt, president of the national federation, will lead the American delegation.

The district meeting is to be held in McLeansboro on March 9. A silent bake sale was conducted and for roll call the members gave the recipe of the cake, pie or candy that they would have baked or made for a real bake sale. A nice sum was netted.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. Hudson Mudge.

The devotion from the Year Book of Prayer was given by Mrs. Herman Boatright. Miss Alvina Shestak gave an instructive Bible study lesson on the first four chapters of Hebrews.

Mrs. C. R. Jelliffe gave a report on the booklet, "The Christian Woman and her Household," and led in a discussion of some of the problems.

Following a short business meeting refreshments were served to 16 members and one guest. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Boatright.

Dorrisville Baptist B. W. C. Meets With Norma Aldridge

Experts See Colder Weather, More Moisture During Next Decades

DENVER (UP) — Two Colorado weather experts predicted today that virtually all of North America and Europe would get colder temperatures and more moisture during the next two or three decades.

The long-range forecast was made by Dr. Walter Orr Roberts, director of the Colorado University high altitude observatory at Boulder and Climax, Colo., and backed by Dr. Irving P. Krick, widely known "rain-maker" and weather forecaster.

Roberts, who bases his "educated guess" on sunspot activity, said he believes the damaging 60-year warm, dry cycle on both continents was just about over and that a "very definite increase in precipitation this year—substantially in

'Bugs' in B-52 Slow Placement In Air Force

WASHINGTON (UP) — The B-52 jet bomber, United States' H-bomber of the future, has developed "bugs" that have slowed its placement in the Air Force, Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Senate Armed Services Committee disclosed today.

The Georgia Democrat said, however, that military leaders feel the "bugs" are now being "ironed out" and that the future of the huge, eight-jet bomber is encouraging.

Russell gave no indication of what troubles developed in the jet bomber, except to say they are typical of the problems that crop up with any new plane. He noted, for instance, that the B-57 light bomber virtually had to be remodeled before it could be placed in operation.

The readiness of the B-52 was brought up at an all-day secret briefing of the Senate Armed Services Committee Wednesday by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The B-52, being built at a cost of about 8 million dollars per plane, is designed to replace the B-36, presently the backbone of the Air Force's intercontinental striking power. The B-52, which will fly at near sonic speeds, is the first bomber specifically designed to carry the H-bomb.

Jake Arvey Sees Democratic Win for Presidency in '56

ATLANTA (UP) — Col. Jacob (Jake) Arvey, of Chicago, said here that he is looking for a Democratic candidate to beat President Eisenhower in 1956.

Arvey, the Democratic kingmaker, said he believes Republicans will force the President to run again and, in answer to a newsman's question, added that "you can't tell" whether Adlai Stevenson could defeat him.

Arvey said he believes Mr. Eisenhower's popularity is the only thing now holding the Republican Party together and believes he will lose much of his 1952 Democratic and independent support but may gain new support from other sources.

Arvey, a powerful backer of Stevenson in 1952, said he believes the former governor of Illinois could again win the nomination without trying, but added, "I doubt that he knows himself whether he wants it."

He said strong contenders for the Democratic nomination will include Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Sens. W. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Walter F. George of Georgia.

Oil Man Offers $100 to Pilot Who Downs Red Plane

WASHINGTON (UP) — Thomas E. Robertson, Dallas, Tex., oil man, has offered to pay $100 to any American pilot who shoots down an attacking Communist plane.

Robertson said he informed the State Department of his offer in two separate letters but had heard "nothing very definite" in the way of official reaction.

"They can't afford to say very much of anything, you know," he explained.

Robertson said he plans to ask other Texas oil men for aid in increasing the offer "to $500, maybe $1,000—you can't tell how high we'll get."

The 54-year-old executive said he first mentioned his idea to a group of friends in Miami, Fla., and "they called my hand."

Japanese Coast Guard and police officers had speculated that the detonation of a powerful explosive, possibly nuclear, caused the phenomenon.

Nine rumbling "explosions" were reported by residents of Izu Oshima and Miyakejima Islands, 75 and 100 miles south of Tokyo, between 3:26 p. m. and 4:10 p. m. Wednesday.

In Memoriam
In memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Josie Hankins, who has been gone 13 years today, Feb. 10, dying in 1942. Flowers bloom in the springtime. They soon are withered and gone.
But the love for our dear Mother will still be living on.
Sadly missed by children and grandchildren. 190-1

In Memory
In loving memory of Joseph B. Lato, who passed away 8 years ago Feb. 10.
His memory is just as dear to us today.
As in the hour he passed away.
Sadly missed by wife and children. 190-1

In Memory
In memory of A. A. Clark who departed this life one year ago, Feb. 10, 1954.
Little did we know when the beautiful morning dawned,
Before the setting of the sun you would be called home.
The day was so beautiful, not a cloud dimmed the sky.
The Master called so sudden you couldn't even say goodbye.
Sadly missed by wife and children.
Mrs. Vivert Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwartz and children. *190-1

YOUR VOTE FOR "DUNC" WILL be appreciated. Ernest Duncan, candidate for commissioner. 185-6

NOTICE
The Galatia township Democratic party will hold a caucus Wed. Feb. 23, 1955 from 7 p. m. until 8 p. m. at the Town House, Galatia, Ill., to nominate a candidate for township highway commissioner. Paul Gray, Committeeman. 190-1

Illinois Farmers Pay Gov't in Full For Credit Loans

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Illinois farmers today celebrated a milestone in the field of farm financing. The Illinois Production Credit Assn., meeting here, observed the payment of the last of the federal funds which were used to set up the credit associations back in 1933.

The credit groups thus have become entirely farmer-owned.

A production credit association is a cooperative credit group, which makes livestock and general farm operating loans to farmers. The self-governing groups loan funds to their members. Most of the original capital in the 18 associations in Illinois came from the federal government, to be repaid as the groups' members could purchase stock.

Government capital in the Illinois groups once totaled more than 3.6 million dollars. Last of the government capital was replaced by farmer capital Dec. 31, 1954. Illinois farmers borrowed more than 64 million dollars from their associations in 1954, and loans totaling more than $6.5 million dollars were paid off.

Gov. William G. Stratton welcomed the association members in a brief talk at the beginning of the celebration.

Any cleaning agent is a detergent, but the name has come to be applied to the synthetic detergents developed in recent years.

Indiana contains 8000 industries, 209 coal mines, and ranks tenth in U. S. farm income.

Miley to Represent Stratton at Lincoln Home Ceremony

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Governor William G. Stratton will be represented at ceremonies marking the opening of six new rooms in the Lincoln Home here Saturday by Robert G. Miley, superintendent of the state Division of Parks and Memorials.

Governor Stratton will be unable to be present for the ceremonies because of the annual Lincoln Day dinner in Chicago which he will attend.

Restoration of the six additional rooms makes the entire house available to the public for the first time. The work was carried on under the direction of Richard S. Hagen, historical consultant of the Division of Parks and Memorials, and the National Society of Colonial Dames of America in the state of Illinois.

The dedicatory ceremony, open to the public, will begin at 2:30 p. m. Saturday on the front steps of the home. Hagen, who will conduct the ceremony, will introduce Miley for the dedicatory address. Responses will be given by Mrs. William T. Bacon, Winnetka, chairman of the Historical Activities Committee of the Illinois chapter, National Society of the Colonial Dames of America, and Mrs. Edward Price, Chicago, president of the Illinois chapter.

The home will be closed to visitors from noon until the conclusion of the ceremony.

Three Civilians Remain Behind On Tachen Islands

ABOARD A U. S. 7TH FLEET AIRCRAFT CARRIER—Three civilians chose to remain behind in the evacuation of the Tachen Islands and a 10-year food supply was left for them, a United States Navy spokesman said today.

The Navy briefing officer said one person on Upper Tachen Island and an 80-year-old couple on Lower Tachen refused evacuation because they wanted to finish out their lives in their ancestral homes. "The elderly ones have lived there all their lives and don't want to leave," the officer said.

Bradley to Head Group to Study Veterans' Benefits

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Congressional sources reported today that Gen. Omar N. Bradley has been picked to head President Eisenhower's new commission to study veterans' benefits.

These sources also said Bradley has selected Maj. Gen. Ernest M. Brannon, former judge advocate general of the Army and a friend of Bradley, to serve as the commission's executive director.

The President has not announced officially his selections for the seven-man group, which he has said will study "the entire structure, scope and philosophy" of veterans' pension and compensation laws.

It was reported on Capitol Hill that he plans to name to the commission, in addition to Bradley as chairman, prominent men from the professions and business.

XXX

From the pilothouse Crotch stared into a white world on either hand. It was better than 250 miles between here and the head of navigation; into these normally dry, chocolate-covered hills went their manifests of mining supplies, tools and food. There were very few times that he remembered a sprinkling of snow over this country. He knew it better for its dryness, its heat.

They were two hours upriver from Yuma, and Melott was again letting her speed slip. Crotch rang the boiler deck for every pound of steam. The floor beneath him began to vibrate; he knew the General Heath was making her supreme effort. By this time Clarence very probably lay beside Castle Dome. It would be a difficult race in this snow, perhaps determined by which ship remained off the sandbars.

A vagrant shadow tipped against the pilothouse, causing him to glance about. Goss stood before him, half grinning. "I'll take the wheel," he said.

"Ben, you get below." Goss moved toward the wheel. He laid his hands across the spokes. "That Reverend's down there, still blowing his steam. To tell the truth, I'm afraid to stay on the same deck."

Crotch laughed. To humor his mate he turned the wheel over, mentally promising he would return in a half hour to relieve Goss. He found no trace of Snodgrass on the deck. China Boy came spinning around the corner of the cookhouse, carrying a tray on which sat a sugar bowl and two empty cups. The Chinese alerted his course to give him a wide berth, pigtail flying.

Crotch made a grab at the back of the cook's shirt. The cups slipped and clattered close to the tray's edge, but China Boy juggled it in time to save them. The captain looked into them contemptuously. Chrysanthemum tea. The Celestial was again running Queenie's errands!

"China Boy, you stay away from her cabin!" he ordered.

"China Boy" telling her about Miss Linda Wong. Miss Linda coming to San Francisco. Then China Boy quit the steamboat.

"When you do quit," Crotch said, "we'll find someone that can keep a clean galley."

The Chinese was squirming around, his slippers sloshing the wet deck. "Missy allee time want something," he grinned. "Allee time hungry. Allee time cold."

"Annoy Queenie again and I'll lay back your ears!" Crotch loosed his grip on the boy's shirt; he waited until the cook entered his cookhouse and slammed the door.

The edge of his glance told him the door to No. 3 stood part way ajar.

"Come in, Captain. It's damp outside."

Her invitation carried him the remainder of the way to her stateroom in a hurry.

She was lying on the bunk with her brown hair loose about the pillow, friendliness in her eyes. "You believe I'm bad, Irving? You you're still remembering Dreyfus?"

It was the first time she had called him by name.

"I don't know what's bad. But you're not. I only wish the chance had come to us."

She lowered her glance, spoke almost at once. "You think I'm running away from Yuma, that I'm afraid to face it through."

Am, but not for the reason you believe. I didn't help Calhoun salt that mine—I hadn't thought much about that until you said it. And before I left Yuma I returned that man's gold. It's waiting in the satchel at his hotel where he'll find it as soon as he comes back from looking for me. I also wrote a short note explaining Calhoun was dead."

So this was not on Queenie's conscience! It changed his whole outlook and made it brighter. As she read this in him, a frail smile touched up each corner of Queenie's lips.

Her fingers crept against his hand, touching him lightly. "I'm wondering if you know tomorrow is Christmas?"

In that instant understanding reached him; she had come aboard at the landing, chosen his steamboat during this period which, on the frontier, was the most difficult time of any to bear alone. He told her quietly, "I'm glad you're with me, Queenie."

Then: "Until now, maybe Christmas hasn't meant as much as it should. Captain, it's been a long time since I've prayed. It all happened that way when I was a little girl in Kentucky. We had a little dog that I considered my own. She meant more to me than anything else. A collie, with a white face and such sad eyes. One day she ran from behind the mill and slipped under the wheels of a farmer's grain wagon."

"I carried her inside our barn and laid her on the straw. She kept licking my hand—I have never seen an expression as helpless, or as hopeful, as that poor animal's. All the while I kept praying. I prayed like I never prayed before, and nothing happened. That night Radcliff Burke buried her for me behind the peach orchard. I went to see the schoolteacher—a lank, bony man with a thinker's skull and grave ways. He told me that these things sometimes were God's will."

He too held a brief silence before he said, "The teacher was right. There are times when there's no other answer."

Vast Cold Wave Spreads Over The Midwest

By United Press

A vast cold wave spread over the Midwest today, plunging temperatures as much as 50 degrees within 24 hours.

Forecasters said strong northerly winds pushed the cold wave as far south as Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri after bringing the central Plains some of the coldest temperatures of the winter.

Cold wave warnings were put throughout the Midwest. Twenty below was predicted for Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota, 30 below for northern Minnesota.

Chicago was due for 5 below with accumulated snow totaling two to four inches. Driving conditions were hazardous throughout the area. In La Salle, Ill., five inches fell before noon.

Blinding snow closed Chicago's big Midway Airport twice in one five-hour period this morning, forcing 25 inbound flights to land at other fields. Some were diverted to Indianapolis. Others landed at Milwaukee and Detroit.

Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.) was aboard a flight that was forced to return to Indianapolis. He was to have addressed a meeting of a lumber dealers association in Chicago.

At Rapid City, S. D., the drop was 44 degrees—from 52 to eight above. It was 27 below at Dickinson, N. D.

County Grade Schools Contribute $1671 to Polio Drive

Saline county's grade schools have contributed $1,671.51 to the March of Dimes, Chairman A. M. Hetherington reported today. Eight schools are unreported and the total will be somewhat higher when the final report is made.

In addition to schools previously reported, contributions have been received from the following:

Harrisburg: Junior high $74.75; McKinley $168.28; Horace Mann $142.35; Logan $75; Bayliss $38.53; Dorris Heights $20.68; Lincoln $11.10; Liberty $13.06; Bankston $7.40;

Eldorado: College Heights $33; Beulah Heights $40; Green Hill $12.40; Lincoln $74.20; Washington $85.83; Jefferson $61.59;

Carrier Mills $113.15. In addition a basketball game at the Carrier Mills high school raised $93.38, which has not been reported previously.

Raleigh $48.05; Muddy $46; Bixler $30; Cross Roads $23.51; East Ledford $33.10; Old No. 10 $7; Mitchellville $14.00 which is additional to what previously has been reported.

Doctors Fight to Save Life of One-Pound Baby Girl

MONTREAL (U.P.) — Doctors fought today to save the life of a one-pound baby they described as perfectly formed and the smallest they had seen.

The tiny girl, only 11 inches long, was born nearly three months prematurely to 38-year-old Mrs. Yvon Gohier in her home five days ago.

The baby, whose father is a machinist and whose mother has one other child, a boy of 13, weighed 1 pound 3 ounces at birth and lost 3 ounces in the hospital. Doctors said the loss was normal and the fact she had survived so far indicated she might live.

The baby was too small to be fed normally and was given nothing for the first 48 hours. Nurses then fed her with a glucose and water solution through a tiny plastic tube.

LOST SOMETHING?

WANT TO FIND SOMETHING? Your magic number is 224. That is the number of the phone in The Daily Register classified ad department.

Mrs. Cecil Martin, who received a beautiful Bulova wrist watch for Christmas, lost it as she was going into the City Hall building Tuesday. She put an ad in The Register.

The watch was found by Mrs. L. B. Kim, wife of the Saline County Farm adviser, and was returned to Mrs. Martin shortly after her ad appeared in The Daily Register Lost column.

Coed Returns to Classes After Trip To Visit Prince

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U.P.) — Jo Ann Stork, 18-year-old coed who flew to Europe to visit the prince of Monaco, went back to classes today with the remark that "Cinderella is back in her pumpkin."

The Alton, Ill., brunette, a beauty contest entrant here last year, called a news conference Wednesday night to tell reporters:

"I just want to end all the publicity and be let alone, have dates with University of Illinois men and just remember the wonderful time I've had during the last few days."

"It all happened so fast I need a little time to think about it and catch up on my sleep," she said.

She had a lot to tell her Pi Beta Phi sorority sisters and showed them the gold medallion she got from the prince and which was wearing on her arrival back at the U. of I. She also exhibited other items she got in Monte Carlo, the prince's province.

She flew to Europe last week to visit the 31-year-old Prince Rainier III, after a magazine carried an article saying he was thinking of taking an American bride. Jo Ann, who said she wanted only to meet the prince to tell him about American girls, got an audience with her "Prince Charming."

She said the trip was worth "every bit" of the $700 of her own money she spent. She said she had invited the prince to a U. of I. football game and "if he comes to the United States I'm sure he'll come here."

4 Airmen Killed When Jets Collide

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (U.P.) — Four American airmen were killed Wednesday when two jet fighters collided and crashed near the Goose Bay U. S. Air Force Base.

A base spokesman said the F-94 jet fighters were on routine training flights when they "apparently collided in mid-air" about 16 miles east of here.

Both jets, each carrying two-man crews, plunged into rugged bush country and exploded. The wreckage was strewn over a wide area.

A helicopter flew to the scene but reported no survivors. The names of the four victims were withheld until next-of-kin were notified.

House Committee Drives Toward Final Action on Tariff-Cutting Measure

By United Press

Republican foes of President Eisenhower's tariff-cutting bill conceded that the measure's Democratic friends have enough votes to push it through the House Ways and Means committee today.

As it drove toward final approval the committee gave the President a minor rebuff. It rejected his request to cut tariffs on some products, imported in negligible quantities, without first getting trade concessions from the countries involved.

The President's authority to make such cuts on a reciprocal basis was, however, retained in the measure.

The bill would give the President general authority to negotiate reciprocal tariff-cutting agreements over the next three years. It contains two main grants of power: To make tariff cuts totaling 15 per cent over the three-year period, and to cut tariffs which now are over 50 per cent of the product's value to a rate equal to that value.

Other congressional news: Money: President Eisenhower asked Congress for $913,508,767 in new appropriations for the current fiscal year ending June 30. Biggest item was $395,720,000 for the Veterans Administration to pay various allowances increased by Congress this year. The new appropriations will not increase total spending in this fiscal year inasmuch as the amounts involved had been covered in the budget.

Pay: The House Judiciary committee voted a $5,000-a-year pay boost for the speaker and vice president. It tacked the increase on to a bill to hike congressional pay by $10,000 a year.

Postal workers: The National Association of Special Delivery Messengers plumped for a bill raising postal pay five per cent in preference to another measure calling for a 10 per cent increase. It said the bill carrying the smaller figure contained job reclassification provisions that would improve the lot of workers more in the long run than the larger increase would.

Games: The House passed and sent to the White House a resolution proposing that the 1960 International Olympic Games be held at Detroit.

Segregation: Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) blasted bills introduced by Sens. Olin D. Johnston (D-Sc.) and Strom Thurmond (D-Sc.) which would deprive the Supreme Court and U. S. Court of Appeals of the right to rule on most cases involving the constitutionality of state school practices. Douglas said the bills are aimed at undercutting the Supreme Court's ruling abolishing

GOP, Democrats Dispute Armed Force Cutback

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Two Republicans on the Senate Armed Services committee today defended the administration's planned military manpower cuts against rumbling Democratic attack.

Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) and Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.) said the 2,850,000-man military force planned by the administration after mid-1956 should provide the nation adequate defense for a long haul of uneasy peace.

Democrats on the committee, however, were not as convinced by an all-day secret briefing given by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Wednesday in defense of the manpower cutbacks.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said he still does not have a "closed mind" on the advisability of the 300,000-man reduction in the next 18 months.

But Russell said he feels there should be a "close re-evaluation" of the cutbacks in light of the Formosa crisis and the shakeup in Russian leadership.

Other Democrats on the committee were more outspoken in criticizing the cutbacks, which fall largely on the Army. Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said that, if anything, ground forces should be increased in view of the world situation.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said the administration has its "back up" and is refusing to consider new developments necessitating a change in the Presidential decision to cut the Army. Jackson particularly cited the "increased possibility of a flareup in the Far East."

Nixon Faces Busy Schedule on Visit to Mexico

MEXICO CITY (U.P.) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today faced another busy schedule on the second day of his three-day visit to Mexico.

Nixon is on a 7,500-mile goodwill tour of Central and South America. He arrived here Wednesday from Cuba.

Mexican Foreign Minister Luis Padilla Nervo and U. S. Ambassador Francis White headed the official welcoming party at the airport. Other high Mexican government officials and diplomats also were on hand.

In a brief address at the airport, following the official 19-gun salute, Nixon said he came here "to hear the views of the Mexican government" on problems common to both the U. S. and Mexico.

"Mexico and the U. S. should work closely together as equal partners," he said. "We can accomplish much within the family of nations."

Economic: CIO President Walter P. Reuther labeled President Eisenhower's economic program "petty and half-hearted." Reuther said administration is not concerned enough about unemployment and falling farm prices.

Testimony: The Defense Department has ordered military leaders called as witnesses before congressional committees to have their testimony cleared by a Central Pentagon Security Office. Testimony prepared for public hearings will be reviewed in advance "to insure military security." Testimony in closed sessions will be reviewed by the department before the committees make it public.

New Industry to Pay Royalties to Eldorado Development Association

The first industry brought to this town as a result of "Operation Bootstrap" announced today it would pay royalties on production to the Eldorado Community Development Association.

The new industry is Cedaroma, makers of products to cedarize rooms and closets. Production started here earlier this month with 30 employees.

Justus Hatfield, president of the corporation, said the Community Development Association would be given one-fourth of a cent on every bottle of Cedaroma turned out here for the next year and one-eighth of a cent on every bottle of Cedar Wick. Some 13,000 bottles of Cedar Wick, a product designed to kill indoor odors, were produced the first day of operation here.

"We've been very much impressed by what these people are doing," said Hatfield. "We want to do all we can to cooperate with them."

Screened Job Applicants

The company, established at Texarkana on the Texas-Arkansas line, was planning to open a plant in southern Ohio. Watching television one night, Hatfield saw the Eldorado Story on Edward R. Murrow's "See It Now" program and decided to come here.

This town, with the help of Southern Illinois university's department of community development, began its "Operation Bootstrap" program in the fall of 1953 after all its coal mines shut down. Since then, the townspeople have been working hard to correct local problems and make Eldorado more attractive to industry.

To make things easier for the new company, the Chamber of Commerce screened job applicants, then let Cedaroma pick 30 out of 100 people. The other names will remain on file until the company is able to go ahead with an expansion program it has in mind.

At present, only Cedar Wick is being made here. The company stockpiled enough Cedaroma at its Texarkana plant to last for several months, but will begin production here for its peak season which is March through June.

To Activate Air Force Reserve Flight At West Frankfort

Plans of the St. Louis Air Reserve Center to activate an Air Force Reserve Flight in the West Frankfort area were announced today by Capt. Samuel F. Irwin, Flight Commander of the Mt. Vernon Air Reserve Flight.

Attendance at Air Reserve meetings qualify members for promotion, retirement and many other benefits and does not interfere with the civilian occupation of the member, Captain Irwin said.

An organizational meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Friday, Feb. 11, at the city hall, 108 North Emma street, in West Frankfort. Personnel presently in the Air Force Reserve and men with prior service in the Armed Forces of the U. S. are urged to attend this meeting.

Captain Irwin stated that similar flights now exist at Mt. Vernon and Carbondale. Prior service men interested in assignment to one of these flights are also urged to attend this meeting.

Hill to Explain Social Security to Ministerial Ass'n

The Harrisburg Ministerial Association will meet Monday at 10 a. m. at the First Christian church. Guest speaker for the morning will be E. Bishop Hill, district manager of Social Security, who will explain the new Social Security Act as amended by Congress in 1954 and effective as of Jan. 1 of this year. The amendment provided for an extension of the social security coverage for ministers on an optional basis.

All ministers are welcome.

Donkeys are the only mode of transportation in Clovelly (Devon, England) high street.

SIDE GLANCES

"Oh, yes, I did swear off smoking—but it just came to me today that I was making myself a slave of a non-sensical New Year's formality!"

MAN AT WORK IS STATE REP. GORDON E. KERR, Brookport Republican. He is shown reading from a letter as he addresses the Illinois House of Representatives on a bill to allow old age pension recipients to earn up to $20 a month. Seated are fellow representatives, W. O. Verhines, Vienna Republican, (from the same 51st district which Kerr represents) to his immediate left, and Robert Beckmeyer, Nashville Republican.

LEGISLATOR AT WORK: Rep. Gordon E. Kerr Wants Area State Parks on Par with Neighboring States

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special)—State Rep. Gordon E. Kerr, Brookport, says he recalls no particular reason for getting into politics "and I just drifted" into running for the Illinois General Assembly. A Republican, Rep. Kerr is serving his third consecutive term. He is a foe of new and increased taxes but admits he might weaken "to help schools."

Kerr, who turns 43 on Feb. 13, said he went into politics through school work. At the age of 22 he was elected to the Brookport Board of Education and has been a member ever since. He tried for the Legislature in 1948, lost, but was successful in 1950 and again in 1952 and 1954. He operates jewelry and grocery stores in Brookport and is a director of the Brookport National bank.

His chief accomplishments in public office, he said, have to do with school work (he is now president of the Brookport Board of Education). He is proud of the fact that Brookport schools no longer have segregation, having ended it three years ago. Kerr says he never voted for increased taxes but might be persuaded to do it for schools.

His big ambition, he said, is to get state parks in Illinois on an equality with those in neighboring states. In southern Illinois, he said, there is not much industry "but there are natural resources which are ideal for recreational purposes." He feels that if parks in the area are built up like they are in other states it will bring in revenue and make up for the lack of industry.

He classes Dixon Springs State park (Kerr says the state once planned to abandon it) and Mermet Lake, near Joppa, as recreational attractions in southern Illinois. Dixon Springs, he said, has added a swimming pool and Mermet Lake is a wild fowl refuge with 1,500 acres of water. He says it will take a long range program to make southern Illinois a vacationland.

Kerr classes himself as a conservative. He says he has never voted for an increased tax "but I don't know about schools. I would vote for an increase in taxes, for schools as a last resource." At this session Kerr is author of bills to allow old age pensioners to earn extra income and to exempt children from supporting them.

Richard Gates is Entered in FFA Speaking Contest

Richard Gates from the Agriculture department at the Harrisburg Township high school has been entered in an extemporaneous public speaking contest of Section 25 to be held Feb. 10 at Shawneetown.

Each FFA chapter was allowed to enter only one boy in the contest, though other FFA members may attend the contest. Most of the Agriculture IV class at HTHS will attend the contest.

The rules of the contest are as follows: Contestants shall draw for place on the program; each boy will have ten minutes to organize his material; each speaker will be allowed 5 minutes for speaking and 3 minutes for questioning by the judges; a penalty of 20 points for each minute under 3 or over 5 will be charged; each boy will give his own title which will be a sub-topic under the general topic which he draws; each contestant has 10 topics from which he may draw.

The boys from HTHS who will also attend the meet are Danny Barger, Gail Buchanan, Darrell Evans, Gerald Hall, Ronald Humphrey, Robert Patton, Dale Walls, and Franklin Wren.

E. J. Thompson is the agriculture teacher and FFA sponsor at HTHS.

AT A MEETING AT SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY Thursday, Feb. 3, members of the Little Grassy Lake Youth Camp association gave E. E. Crawford (seated at right), Carleville, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service representative, the go-ahead to order six raised-letter directional signs to help motorists locate the seven member camps. Seated, left to right, are the Rev. L. R. Gilliland, Cobden, Presbyterian church; the Rev. Gail Hines, Murphysboro, Methodist church; Mrs. Val Baggett, Herrin, Girl Scouts; and Crawford. Standing, left to right, are Clyde Winkler, Carbondale superintendent of schools and Educational Council of 100 representative; Dr. Roswell Merrick, SIU coordinator of health, recreation, and physical education; and Dr. George Hand, vice-president of SIU and Boy Scout representative. ## SIU Sophomore Girl to Participate in Methodist-Sponsored Youth Seminar

Carolyn Jennings, Southern Illinois university sophomore from Olney, has been selected as one of 50 young Methodist students from the nation to participate in a youth seminar in New York City and Washington, D. C., February 20-26.

The seminar, sponsored by the Methodist church, will include three days of educational programs and group conferences with key personnel at the United Nations center in New York and three days at the nation's capital.

Carolyn Jennings

Miss Jennings is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Jennings, Route 6, Olney. She is student president of the Wesley Foundation (Methodist) at Southern Illinois university and is Christian Outreach chairman of the Methodist Youth Fellowship for the Southern Illinois Conference of the Methodist Church, which includes the southern third of the state. At Southern she is studying in the field of elementary education.

Selected by the Conference MYF Council as a candidate for attending the seminar, Miss Jennings is one of five from Illinois (the only one from southern Illinois) who will join student representatives from 21 other states at the week-long seminar.

The first treaty between the United States and an Indian tribe was negotiated with the Delaware tribe on Sept. 17, 1778. The last treaty to be ratified by the Senate was made with the Nez Perce tribe in August, 1868.

Skimmer of white silk (upper center) by Mr. Arnold is printed with widely-spaced pattern of roses and green stems. Roses rise over the brim; there's a matching silk scarf. Sally Victor's Dutch bonnet (upper right) is a confection of finely pleated sheer white hairbraids touched with pale blue velvet baby ribbon. Landslide cloche of lemon yellow felt by John Frederies is striped with bands of shiny straw in the same color (lower left). Breton of yellow silk rose petals (lower center) is Walter Florell design, has cutaway back covered by a single, full-blown rose of silk and velvet. Patty shell hat in clear red straw (lower right) by Gustavo is accented with band and back buttons of matching red velvet. Back flare is accomplished by fluted straw to set off this tiny breton.

To Interview Girls For Barnes Hospital School of Nursing

Applications for enrollment in the Barnes Hospital School of Nursing Class of 1955 are now being accepted. It was announced by Dr. Frank R. Bradley, director of Barnes hospital. Young women between the ages of 17 and 35 years who have completed high school (or its equivalent) are eligible for admission upon satisfactory completion of pre-entrance examinations. The course of study covers a three year period with classes being admitted in September of each year.

Complete information about the program may be obtained from Miss Ann J. Campbell, Director of Nursing Education and Nursing Services; Barnes Hospital, 600 S. Kingshighway Blvd.; St. Louis 10, Missouri.

Faculty members will be available to interview prospective students and speak to assemblies in the following communities as follows:

Feb. 15 — Miss Helen Kotterman, R. N. and Miss Anna Adams, R. N. will be at the Galatia high school at 9:30 a. m.; the Eldorado high school at 2 p. m.; and at the Harrisburg Township high school at 7 p. m.

Feb. 16 — Miss Helen Kotterman, R. N. and Miss Anna Adams, R. N. will be at the Norris City high school at 9:30 a. m. and at the Carmi high school at 1:30 p. m.

Divorce Settlement Involves Grass Cutting

CLEVELAND, O. — (AP) — Somebody's going to get $100 for cutting Mrs. Wanda Cholewa's grass. Mrs. Cholewa won that amount from her husband in her divorce suit against him. Her settlement included a two-acre plot of grass surrounding her home — but no lawnmower. It seems Cholewa, 32, came back after he left his wife and took the power mower to sell. He refused to cut her grass. So the judge decided to provide means for it.

The Chippewas and Potawatomis each have 42 treaties with the United States.

TWO-LAYER VALENTINE CAKE

With your favorite brand package cake mix (calling for milk) use a mixture of 2 parts undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk and 1 part water. Prepare according to package directions. When cooled ice between layers, on sides and top of cake with "Queen of Hearts icing."

QUEEN OF HEARTS ICING
(Makes icing for 2 8-inch layers)

1/2 cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 cups sifted confectioners sugar
1/2 cup butter
Red food coloring

Combine all ingredients except butter in bowl; blend until smooth. Add butter, beat until creamy. Add a few drops red food coloring to half of icing. Use white icing between layers, on sides, and over part of cake top. Form red icing on cake in heart shape—a cookie cutter will be a good pattern.
